

"Agents Revillon Freres Furs"

Lively Tailored Suits

$14.50 to $25

At these prices our stocks of smart tailored suits for women and misses stand supreme. Our buyers have secured the world's best in values and styles. Every new idea, innovation, weave and color is on display at very moderate prices. You will be delighted with the pretty new serges, black and white suitings, mixtures, diagonals, broches, etc., in the rich fall colors. Both mannish and cutaway effects with newest sleeves, collars and cuffs. Very cleverly draped skirts with fancy buttons. A collection of new models showing exceptional merit at $25.00 and down to $14.50

Pretty Silk Dresses

For Street and Afternoon Wear

$9.95 to $29.50

A REMARKABLE showing of the very newest creations including crepe de chine, charmeuse, messaline, silk bengalines, silk poplins, chiffon and kinkie crepes in the favored fall colors. Mostly long sleeves lace trimmed and the new De Medici yoke effects. All beautifully trimmed with laces, buttons and girdles. Skirts very cleverly draped. Ideal models at $29.50 and down to $9.95

Black Silk Skirts

$9.95 to $25

JUST received an exclusive collection of the latest creations in silk messaline, moire, poplin and kinkie crepes showing the new sunshine plaited waist effects, over-skirts and side drape ideas. By far the swiftest assortment of skirts shown in El Paso this season. See them Monday at $9.95 to $25.00

New Wool Skirts at $3.95, $4.95, $6.75

Phoenix Guaranteed Silk Hose

At $1

Pure silk thread hose with lisle heels, toes and garter top, black, white and tan. The pair $1.00

Four pairs in box guaranteed three months, the box $4.00

Seamless pure silk thread hose with lisle heels, toes and deep garter top, black and tan only. The pair .75c

Four pairs in box guaranteed 3 months, box $3.00

Ask to See Our New Imported Gift Novelties, 25c to $5.95

HURD'S STATIONERY—A beautiful assortment of Hurd's gold initial box stationery in fine linen quality. 24 sheets and 24 envelopes. The box 50c and $25c

Agents

Kayser's Products

THE WHITE HOUSE
CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN

McCallum

Silk Hosiery

"The Store of Service"

"The Corset Store of El Paso"

Harner's Rust Proof

Grace-Giving Corsets

$1.00 to $5.00

Perfect figures don't just happen or find themselves by chance. When you see a tall, well developed woman with superb, unbroken lines from bust to knee—you may rest assured she has gained those lines by the aid of an excellent corset.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

Never compress or bind the muscles, but obtain gently subdued curves by the coaxing and moulding of best corset art. There are many points worth noting about Warner's style aside from its shape, which is conceded to excel—the pliant nature of the boning, which gives the figure great flexibility, its rustless virtue and lasting quality.

Let our expert corsetiere fit you tomorrow.

THE WHITE HOUSE
CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN

"The Store of Service"

NO HURD IN THE ORNER CASE

(Continued From Page One.)

ten into the record of the case of the state of Texas versus Agnes Orner.

Counsel for defendant registered no objection to the jury being discharged at this time.

When the jury had left, the question of change of venue was taken up, and finally Judge Jackson ordered the case back to El Paso, on the ground that there have been hundreds of new jurors acquired on the jury list of El Paso since the case was last tried there, many of whom had never heard of the case, and that the probability was that a fair trial could be had there.

Fears Trial in El Paso.

Just before the court announced the change to El Paso, the defendant arose and said she had but one request to make and that was that she be sent to any place but El Paso, as she knew she could not get a fair trial there.

There were but six people in the courtroom when the jury was discharged. The sentiment of the people in the little village of Van Horn had somewhat changed in the past week. Each day the courtroom was crowded with women, who waited in vain to see their defendant take the stand and tell their husbands and brothers who were on the jury her side of the case, but the case was closed without a word from Agnes Orner.

Eight For Acquittal.

The jury stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction. W. T. Malone and his son, Fred Malone, W. B. Morris and W. B. Humphreys were for conviction. Mr. Humphreys's son was for acquittal, as were the two Hollabekes, father and son. It is said Mrs. Orner will be tried for insanity in the county court at El Paso shortly.

Mrs. Orner was led back to the jail, quite composed. She asked Judge Jackson to allow her to remain here a few days, which request was granted.

Distict attorney W. W. Bridges left for El Paso tonight. Judge Jackson leaves next Wednesday for El Paso.

OWEN'S ARREST PROVES SENSATION

(Continued from previous page.)

is likely to occur some time next week, unless the matter is taken directly to the grand jury.

Owen Has for Legislature. For the past few years, Mr. Owen has been prominently identified with local politics. He was considered one of the mainstays of the anti-fraction faction. During the last county campaign he was a candidate for the legislature, being opposed to Richard Burges, the ring candidate and the present incumbent. Mr. Owen was one of the attorney who defended L. E. Ross who was tried some time ago in the 34th district court on a charge of robbery.

Mr. Owen was arrested in connection with the holdup of 11 card players at the hotel McCoy last January. He was arrested on the indictment of Mrs. Orner for the murder of her daughter, Lillie, by poisoning. Mr. Owen has been her chief counsel. Mrs. Orner was arrested on February 20, 1915.

Has Conducted Case Five Times. Mr. Owen has represented her in five trials and has been given her. The first one was in El Paso, when she was convicted by the jury and sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary, but the case was reversed because Judge Harper failed to have the jury specify the degree of murder of which she was found guilty.

Mr. Owen was her chief counsel later at the trials at Midland, El Paso and finally at Van Horn, where for the fifth time the case was given to a jury and for the fourth time there was no agreement.

BLACK REPUBLIC GETS A BIG SUM

Liberia Will Use $60,000 in Educating its Children—Money Comes From An American's Legacy.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—The American Colonization society—the only private enterprise in history that ever established an independent nation and secured to itself efficiency—has just paid over to its ward, Liberia, more than $60,000, the increment of an idle fund, to be applied to the education of the negro children of Liberia in the public schools of the republic.

The annual proceeds of the same fund are to be in part utilized for the purpose of sending desirable immigrants to Liberia. The American Colonization society, whose activities have long lain dormant, with the advent of prosperity to Liberia as the result of assumption of direction of the national finances by the government of the United States, is bent upon a resumption of its activity in advancing the prosperity, civilization and citizenship of the negro republic in Africa.

It was 27 years ago, in 1836, that Caroline Donovan made a declaration of trust, setting aside valuable real estate in Baltimore, the proceeds in rent to be applied to the expenses of bringing immigrants to Liberia, with a reversion of the revenues for education of negro children in public schools in the event that it should not be exhausted for the primary purpose. The estate was to be held for life by the owner, and upon death to come under the trusteeship of the American Colonization society. Caroline Donovan died a few years after establishing the trust.

Owing to the falling off in immigration, the Donovan fund has been increasing for many years. A year ago the check for the accumulated revenues was made out, but technicalities prevented its transfer of the money to the custody of Liberia. The Liberian legislature had enacted a law guaranteeing the safety of the fund and its application to the intended purposes, but had inadvertently made it difficult to pay over the money to authorized representatives. This has now been remedied.

The fund, it is anticipated, will amply provide educational facilities to meet the present and growing needs of the black republic. It can be applied to the construction of school houses, the payment of instructors and any other legitimate purposes of maintenance and administration.

Hayland, French, Austrian, and American Dinner sets at The China Palace.—Advertisement.

The ordinary cost of a Want Ad in The El Paso Herald is 25 cents. It reaches an average of about 70,000 readers each issue.

A bargain: 49 place Cottage set, white with gilt band, only $2.95 at The China Palace.—Advertisement.

$5.00 Colonials

It is not only in showing the very latest shoe fashions, but also in the variety of styles, the fit, the wear and the shoe service that goes with it, but also and mainly in the price, where the Guarantee excels. Please compare these with any others sold in El Paso and you will agree that they are as good as any $6.00 Colonial on the market.

Patent Turn Colonial with Cut steel Buckle, Cuban Louis heels. Price only $5.00

Satin Turn Colonial with Cut Steel ornament, Cuban Louis heels. Price only $5.00

GREATER EL PASO'S GREATEST SHOE STORE
The Guarantee
SHOE COMPANY

Our Fall Catalog is out 203 Mesa Avenue Ask for our Fall Catalog

Agents Laird Schober Fine Shoes for Women.

WIRELESS CALL FOR AID SAVES MANY LIVES ON A BURNING SHIP

(Continued from Page One.)

steamer, which heard the Voltorno's S. O. S. distress call by wireless, were several hundred persons who, unimpaired by the blinding cold of the gale and the danger from the huge waves which crashed over the vessels, remained on deck throughout the afternoon and night to watch the disaster.

All during Thursday night one searchlight from the Cunarder, Carmania, was kept steadily on the Voltorno, while another played over the 19 vessels that surrounded the stricken ship. The cries of those on the Voltorno were carried by the gale and the passengers on all of the other vessels could see the women and children huddled close to the Voltorno's stern while the men stood nearer the fire.

Carmania's Captain Acts Quickly. That so many were rescued from the Voltorno was due to the prompt, efficient work of Captain Barr, of the Carmania. The wireless operator on the Carmania picked up a faint "S. O. S." call shortly after noon on Thursday. The position of the Voltorno was given and the following: "Come quick, ship afire; fear we are doomed."

The Carmania, which sailed from New York October 10, for Liverpool, which sailed from Bremen on October 4, bore in sight. A little later the German tramp ship, the Voltorno, came up to the Carmania. Following this all at full speed toward the black line of smoke that was the Voltorno, across the foaming waves by the gale.

Women and Children Drown. By consent of the commanders of all of the vessels in the rescue fleet, Capt. Barr was allowed to take command of the rescue operation. He then decided that the 10 vessels that formed the rescue fleet would form in "battalion" in a circle around the Voltorno. Then under his orders the vessels began a march around the Voltorno, the searchlights from each vessel continued throughout the night.

All the vessels were brilliantly lighted, but only two searchlights were used, owing to the danger of blinding the men on the bridge. These lights were from the Carmania. One of these was kept on the Voltorno while the other played about over the other vessels, enabling them to keep a safe distance from the others.

All the night captains kept up a conference by means of the wireless. White numerous plans were suggested, each calling for a desperate attempt to reach the burning liner, all of these were abandoned and it was decided that the only hope lay in the chance that the gale would abate and the sea subside somewhat.

Explosion Shakes Vessel. Shortly before dawn the watchers on the vessels which formed the circle were appalled to see an immense flame shoot up from about the middle of the Voltorno. An instant later these were followed by a report which could be heard on all of the vessels. When the mass of flames and burning material had settled down, it was seen that a great red had been torn in the burning vessel. This was later learned to have been caused by an explosion of the boilers. The crew, assisted by many passengers, had put up a steady fight against the flames. For a long time the steam pumps had been working, most of whom had been killed by the fire, and when the heat in the fire room became unbearable the hand pumps were put into action.

Passengers Help at Pumps. Many of the passengers took their turn at the sea pumps, and it was by the use of these that the flames were prevented from reaching the after hold, over which the women and children were huddled.

A few minutes later the dawn shot across the water and it could then be seen that the fire had gone down considerably, owing to its having burned itself out.

Effort at Rescue Resumed. It was then that the fight to relieve the passengers began. It was also then that the great value of the Carmanian's Standard Oil tank steamer, dawning upon the captains. A few seconds later the pumps on the oil steamer were working and streams of oil were being poured out over the water. With the "bottle line" still preserved, the Carmanian's crew, and the Voltorno and as the oil spread over the surface of the sea, it seemed to materially calm the waters.

When the effects of the oil were noticeable and it was apparent that the gale had spent itself, the lifeboats from the vessels the men and members of the crew began to leave. Captain Inch was the last man to leave the vessel.

Captain Inch saved himself to the mast of the Voltorno and directed the mode of leaving the vessel. The general order of the crew was to leave the vessel in the strictest silence. There were a large number of women and children among the passengers, most of whom had been huddled in the steerage. When these had been landed safely on one or the other of the vessels the men and members of the crew began to leave. Captain Inch was the last man to leave the vessel.

Bodies Hauled Into Air. The wireless accounts received here tonight differ as to how the 136 lost their lives. Many accounts state that many of the life boats with lights attached, were set adrift in the hope that some of those who had been blown from the vessel would be seen. At the same time the searchlight from the Carmania swept the surrounding waters for trace of any bodies. Several times objects believed to be bodies were seen but none of these were recovered.

About 20 persons climbed into a lifeboat lashed to the davits near the stern and at various times during the night men and women were seen to either fall or jump from this boat. Captain Barr believes that many of the 136 were drowned after being thrown from this boat by the rolling and pitching of the Voltorno.

Hope and despair alternated in the breasts of the passengers gathered on the deck of the Voltorno as the night wore on. When one of the circling liners about the ill-fated ship would come near, the passengers would yell with delight, but when it pulled further away, there would come a cry of agony and despair that chilled the blood of the onlookers.

that a great red had been torn in the burning vessel. This was later learned to have been caused by an explosion of the boilers. The crew, assisted by many passengers, had put up a steady fight against the flames. For a long time the steam pumps had been working, most of whom had been killed by the fire, and when the heat in the fire room became unbearable the hand pumps were put into action.

Passengers Help at Pumps. Many of the passengers took their turn at the sea pumps, and it was by the use of these that the flames were prevented from reaching the after hold, over which the women and children were huddled.

A few minutes later the dawn shot across the water and it could then be seen that the fire had gone down considerably, owing to its having burned itself out.

Effort at Rescue Resumed. It was then that the fight to relieve the passengers began. It was also then that the great value of the Carmanian's Standard Oil tank steamer, dawning upon the captains. A few seconds later the pumps on the oil steamer were working and streams of oil were being poured out over the water. With the "bottle line" still preserved, the Carmanian's crew, and the Voltorno and as the oil spread over the surface of the sea, it seemed to materially calm the waters.

When the effects of the oil were noticeable and it was apparent that the gale had spent itself, the lifeboats from the vessels the men and members of the crew began to leave. Captain Inch was the last man to leave the vessel.

Captain Inch saved himself to the mast of the Voltorno and directed the mode of leaving the vessel. The general order of the crew was to leave the vessel in the strictest silence. There were a large number of women and children among the passengers, most of whom had been huddled in the steerage. When these had been landed safely on one or the other of the vessels the men and members of the crew began to leave. Captain Inch was the last man to leave the vessel.

Bodies Hauled Into Air. The wireless accounts received here tonight differ as to how the 136 lost their lives. Many accounts state that many of the life boats with lights attached, were set adrift in the hope that some of those who had been blown from the vessel would be seen. At the same time the searchlight from the Carmania swept the surrounding waters for trace of any bodies. Several times objects believed to be bodies were seen but none of these were recovered.

About 20 persons climbed into a lifeboat lashed to the davits near the stern and at various times during the night men and women were seen to either fall or jump from this boat. Captain Barr believes that many of the 136 were drowned after being thrown from this boat by the rolling and pitching of the Voltorno.

Hope and despair alternated in the breasts of the passengers gathered on the deck of the Voltorno as the night wore on. When one of the circling liners about the ill-fated ship would come near, the passengers would yell with delight, but when it pulled further away, there would come a cry of agony and despair that chilled the blood of the onlookers.

"1347" Rogers Bros. silver chests at reasonable prices.—The China Palace.—Advertisement.

Tim L. Woodruff's CONDITION CRITICAL

New York, Oct. 11.—The condition of Tim L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, was reported tonight to be grave.

"My father is now on the verge of a grave crisis and one which he will last only three or four days," said J. J. E. Woodruff, son of the sick man, tonight.

"We of course sincerely hope that he will pass safely through this crisis."

Tim L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, was reported tonight to be grave.

"My father is now on the verge of a grave crisis and one which he will last only three or four days," said J. J. E. Woodruff, son of the sick man, tonight.

"We of course sincerely hope that he will pass safely through this crisis."

Tim L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, was reported tonight to be grave.

"My father is now on the verge of a grave crisis and one which he will last only three or four days," said J. J. E. Woodruff, son of the sick man, tonight.

"We of course sincerely hope that he will pass safely through this crisis."

Tim L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, was reported tonight to be grave.

"My father is now on the verge of a grave crisis and one which he will last only three or four days," said J. J. E. Woodruff, son of the sick man, tonight.

"We of course sincerely hope that he will pass safely through this crisis."

Tim L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, was reported tonight to be grave.

"My father is now on the verge of a grave crisis and one which he will last only three or four days," said J. J. E. Woodruff, son of the sick man, tonight.

"We of course sincerely hope that he will pass safely through this crisis."

Tim L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, was reported tonight to be grave.

"My father is now on the verge of a grave crisis and one which he will last only three or four days," said J. J. E. Woodruff, son of the sick man, tonight.

NOTICE LADIES

We have just opened a Ladies' Tailoring Establishment. Our specialty will be Skirts and Tailored Dresses.

Latest Styles—Perfect Fit

and best of workmanship, at moderate prices.

Skirts Made To Order, $3.95 up.

S. L. Shapiro, Ladies' Tailor, Mgr.

Formerly with the White House, 36 Buckler Bldg. Phone 2163.

GEN. HUERTA CALLS CONGRESS TO MEET

(Continued From Page One.)

After of finance. His health is given as the cause.

Military Governors Approve. The military governors of many of the states have wired the government that president Huerta's action in dissolving congress meets with general approval.

Men Close to the President say that the intention is to keep the arrested deputies in jail until after the election, unless they should in the meantime decide to accept Huerta's demands and revoke their action of Thursday in appointing a committee to investigate the alleged killing of Sr. Dominguez of Chiapas. An unconfirmed report tonight had it that the imprisoned deputies are to be impressed into the army.

There has been much talk today of intervention being the only solution of the present situation, and it is believed by many, before the end of the month.

MUCH SENTIMENT AGAINST HUERTA'S ACTION IN JEAIRZ. Rumors that there may soon be public expression in Juaraz of indignation at president Huerta's action in jailing members of the national chamber of deputies are circulating among Mexicans "on the inside" of politics along the border. The president's assumption of absolute dictatorship has changed the sentiment against him in the border town.

The topic is discussed in undertones by groups of two and three on street corners and over convivial glasses, but the approach of a stranger—American or Mexican—is the signal for a rapid change of the subject. There is no open talk of dissatisfaction yet, as the citizens learned long ago to seven silent regarding political matters, but the feeling of discontent is perceptibly present, nevertheless.

DEMANDS DAUGHTER; IS SHOT TO DEATH

Americans From Chihuahua Bring Details of Killing of Police Chief by Federal Officers.

Reports which have been brought from Chihuahua by Americans who have arrived here, tell of the shooting of the commander of police there by one of Orozco's staff officers as a result of a difficulty because of a young woman. The Americans say that two young Mexican girls were taken from a street car by two officers of the federal army and taken to a house in the residence section of the town.

One of the girls is said to have been the daughter of the commander of police and he rode to the house to demand his daughter, the Americans say. One of the officers is said to have drawn his pistol and shot the police officer, who died soon after. Orozco is said to have been in the automobile with the federal officers.

FOURTEEN KILLED IN BATTLE AT ALTOS

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 11.—Confirmation of the reported engagement between the "constitutionalists" and federalists yesterday at Altos, 60 miles south of here, was received tonight. The "constitutionalists" lost ten men and several were wounded, while the federalists were wounded, while the federalists were wounded, while the federalists were wounded.

A number were wounded. The fighting was at long range and neither side gained any advantage.

UNITED STATES TO REMAIN HANDS OFF

Lind May Carry New Message to Huerta but American Government Will Not Intervene.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—The administration has determined to keep hands off the new situation which has developed in Mexico.

Huerta's arrest of deputies and his assumption of full control was discussed in a conference between president and Jno. Bassett Moore, counsel of the state department. Later it was announced that the question was still one of international Mexican politics with which the United States could have nothing to do.

The unofficial report comes that John Lind, the president's special envoy, was about to proceed from Vera Cruz to Mexico City to convey a new message to the Huerta government. This report was denied here tonight. Some of the officials on the contrary said that it was likely that Mr. Lind would go. Late news to the state department stated that many of the arrested deputies had been released because they had been coerced and tamed by the bayonets of the federal army.

These same officials say that Huerta would succeed, either by complete coercion of the present assembly or by the election of a new assembly, in securing himself or a puppet of his own as the new president.

President Wilson and his advisers proposed to take no new step until after the day of the election. The state department was informed today that while some citizens of Spain were murdered in Torreon, the number was largely exaggerated, only nine having been reported officially to the state department.

THINK SITUATION NOW IS CRITICAL

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Huerta's arrest of 110 deputies of the Mexican congress, followed by the prorogation of the congress, has created a situation of anxiety. No attempts to disguise the developments of the last 24 hours in Mexico have precipitated what probably is the most serious situation since Huerta took office.

The situation is regarded here as warranting the United States in maintaining a considerable naval force at Vera Cruz and Tampico.

Huerta's action in suspending the session of congress is regarded merely as preliminary to a declaration of martial law, which will make almost unlimited his power over the capital.

Many officials regarded the developments as bearing out predictions that no election would be held October 25.

JAILED FOR CARRYING WEAPON. Jesus Marino, on his way to Juarez Saturday night, was halted by the immigration officers at the Santa Fe street bridge. When he was searched it was claimed a pistol was found. Marino was sent to the police station, where he was docketed on a charge of carrying the weapon.

Willow ware dinner sets and open stock just received at The China Palace.—Advertisement.

Mirrors of any kind from 5c to $10.00 at The China Palace.—Advertisement.

LEVY GROCERY COMPANY
UNDERSALL ALL OTHERS

PHONES 505-3096. 204-206 E. OVERLAND ST.

NOTICE

On account of holiday next Saturday we will close until 6 p. m.

Patrons will kindly place your orders Friday for delivery.